

Botswana electrical distribution box assembly manufacturer

Article Overview

Lesedi Boards and Powacom Group are leading manufacturers of electrical distribution boxes and related equipment in Botswana.

Lesedi Boards

Lesedi Boards, established in 1981 and restructured in 1986 to focus on electrical distribution boards, is a prominent local manufacturer based in Gaborone, Botswana . They produce electrical switchboards, motor control centers, metering kiosks, and feeder pillars using in-house CNC equipment, bending machines, and powder coating facilities . Their products comply with local engineering standards and are supplied to commercial, hospital, and industrial markets throughout Botswana . Lesedi Boards emphasizes quality, customer service, and staff expertise, making them a reliable choice for distribution box assembly .

Powacom Group

Powacom Group, operating in Botswana since the early 1990s, specializes in DB boards, feeder pillars, ventilation vents, and air-conditioners . They provide manufacturing, supply, installation, and maintenance of electrical components and sheet metal works . The company employs over 150 staff, with more than 95% being local experts, and adheres to international standards in their production processes . Powacom Group also engages in corporate social responsibility initiatives, supporting local communities and government programs
