

Conduit and Optical Cable Wiring Manufacturers

Article Overview

Leading manufacturers of conduit and optical cable wiring include Optical Cable Corporation, Eastern Wire + Conduit, and multiple specialized steel and fiber optic conduit producers across the U.S. and globally.

Optical Cable Manufacturers

Optical Cable Corporation (OCC) is a pioneer in fiber optic cable design and production, offering solutions for broadcast, enterprise, industrial, and data center applications. Their products include fiber optic and copper cables, designed for high performance, durability, and reliability, with a 25-year MDIS warranty highlighting their robustness and industry leadership . Eastern Wire + Conduit (EWC) specializes in flexible conduits and custom armoring for electrical and datacom industries. They provide high-quality cable protection for optical fiber, UTP, and coaxial cables, serving sectors such as telecommunications, healthcare, education, and manufacturing . Other notable U.S. suppliers include Nassau National Cable and Prysmian Group / General Cable, which offer a wide range of copper and aluminum wiring solutions, including specialty cables for renewable energy, data centers, and industrial applications .
