

GPON optical module price quote

Article Overview

GPON optical modules typically range from $20 to $150 per unit, depending on class, power, and vendor.

Price Overview

GPON optical modules are available in different power classes and form factors, which influence their price:

- Class B+ modules: Standard modules with an optical budget of 28 dB, suitable for typical 20 km reach. Prices generally start around $20-$40 per SFP module .
- Class C+ modules: Higher optical budget (32 dB) for longer distances or higher split ratios. These modules usually cost $50-$90 per unit .
- Class C++ / C+++ modules: High-power modules with 35 dB optical budget, designed for dense or extended networks, supporting up to 20 km or more. Prices range from $100-$150, depending on optical power options (7dBm-10dBm) and vendor .

Factors Affecting Price

- Transmission Distance and Optical Power: Modules with higher optical output or longer reach are more expensive.
- Compatibility: Modules compatible with multiple OLT brands (Huawei, ZTE, FiberHome, TP-Link, etc.) may carry a premium .
- Features: Modules with DDM (Digital Diagnostic Monitoring), temperature monitoring, or enhanced reliability often cost more .
- Vendor and Warranty: OEM modules from major brands may be pricier than gener...
