

How to Assemble a Santop Network Cabinet

Article Overview

Assembling a Santop network cabinet involves sequentially installing the top, bottom, side, back panels, mounting profiles, doors, and cable entry panels using the provided screws and hardware.

Step-by-Step Assembly Guide

- Prepare the Components Lay out all parts: top and bottom panels, side frames, back panel, front glass door, side panels, mounting profiles, and cable entry panels. Ensure you have the correct screws (M5, M6, M8) and flange nuts as specified in the manual .
- Install Top and Bottom Panels Insert the top and bottom panels into the side frames. Secure the frame to the front door position using 4 M5*8 self-tapping screws .
- Secure Side Frames Use 16 M8*12 inner hex round screws with M8 flange nuts to fix the top and bottom panels to the two side frames. This ensures the cabinet structure is stable .
- Attach Mounting Profiles Fix the mounting profiles inside the frame using 8 M6*12 head screws. These profiles will support your networking equipment like switches, patch panels, and routers .
- Install Back Panel Attach the back panel to the frame using 6 M5*8 self-tapping screws. Ensure it is flush and secure to maintain cabinet rigidity .
- Install Cable Entry Panels Place the removable cable entry panels at the top and bottom or sides as needed. These allow organized routing of network cables .
- Attach Front Glass Door Install the front glass door into the frame and secure it with a door latch at the right bottom. Check that the door opens and closes smoothly
