

Imported Distribution Box

Article Overview

Imported distribution boxes are electrical enclosures designed for power distribution, available in various materials, sizes, and IP ratings, often sourced from international manufacturers with options for customization and OEM branding.

Overview

An imported distribution box is a pre-assembled electrical enclosure used to house circuit breakers, busbars, terminals, and wiring for power distribution in residential, commercial, or industrial settings . These boxes are typically made from high-strength ABS, polycarbonate, or metal, offering durability, impact resistance, and protection against dust, moisture, and heat . They are available in multiple sizes and configurations, including wall-mounted, floor-standing, and fiber optic distribution enclosures .

Key Features

- Enclosure Material: ABS or polycarbonate for lightweight, impact-resistant designs; metal enclosures for higher durability and EMC shielding .
- IP Ratings: Commonly IP65, IP66, or IP67, providing protection against dust and water ingress .
- Customization: Many imported boxes allow OEM branding, custom busbar layouts, cable entry modifications, and logo embossing .
- Components: Includes circuit breakers, busbars, terminals, and wiring. Quality varies by manufacturer; imported units may use lighter composite materials and innovative connectors, but durability under extreme conditions can differ from dom...
