

List of Directors of Relay Protection Department in Burundi

Article Overview

There is no publicly available list of directors for the Relay Protection Department in Burundi.

Currently, official government sources and public directories in Burundi do not provide specific names or leadership details for the Relay Protection Department . This department is likely part of the national electricity or energy sector, possibly under the Ministry of Energy and Mines or a state-owned utility, but detailed leadership information is not published online.

How to Obtain Information

- Contact the Ministry of Energy and Mines: They oversee energy infrastructure and may provide official contacts for technical departments.
- Reach out to the national electricity utility: In Burundi, the REGIDESO (Régie de Production et de Distribution d'Eau et d'Électricité) manages electricity distribution and may have a Relay Protection Department.
- Official government directories: Periodically, Burundi publishes decrees and government contact lists, which may include departmental directors, accessible via the Presidency or Ministry websites .
- Professional networks: LinkedIn or industry associations in Burundi's energy sector may have current personnel information. Since this information is not publicly listed, contacting the relevant ministry or utility directly is the most reliable method to obtain an up-to-date list of directors.
