

Price List for Anti-corrosion Cable Trays in Gaoyou

Article Overview

Anti-corrosion cable trays in Gaoyou typically range from $3 to $50 per unit depending on material, size, and customization options.

Overview of Pricing

The cost of anti-corrosion cable trays varies significantly based on material type, load capacity, and environmental resistance. Common materials include FRP (fiberglass reinforced plastic), epoxy resin composites, and polymer trays, which are highly resistant to corrosion, UV exposure, and chemical damage . Factory-direct or OEM options often provide more competitive pricing and allow for customization to meet specific project requirements .

- FRP/Composite Cable Trays: These are widely used in corrosive environments such as chemical plants, railways, and power stations. Prices generally start around $10-$50 per meter, depending on thickness, width, and load rating .
- Galvanized Steel or Stainless Steel Trays: While less corrosion-resistant than FRP, these are suitable for moderate environments. Wholesale prices for standard ladder-type trays can start as low as $3-$5 per unit for smaller sizes, with larger or coated trays costing more .
- Customization and Accessories: Adding covers, brackets, or flame-retardant coatings increases the price. Factory-direct suppliers often provide volume discounts for bulk orders
