

Price of Electric Optical Cable Traction Machine

Article Overview

Electric optical cable traction machines typically range from around $600 to over $2,000 depending on specifications and supplier.

Price Overview

- On eBay, a gasoline-powered optical cable traction machine with a traction force of 700kg is listed at $668.85, which provides a reference for smaller or mid-range units . Another model with 600kg traction and adjustable speed (1-60m/min) is available with electric start options, indicating slightly higher pricing for electric variants .
- On Alibaba, electric fiber optic cable pulling machines are offered with prices that vary based on traction capacity, speed, and customization. Standard models typically start around $1,000-$2,000, while high-capacity or fully automated units can exceed this range .
- Made-in-China listings highlight that lead times for standard models are 15-30 days, with customized units requiring 30-45 days, which can also affect the final cost .

Factors Affecting Price

- Traction Force: Machines range from 300kg to 700kg or more; higher traction generally increases cost .
- Traction Speed: Adjustable speeds (e.g., 1-60m/min) and precision control can raise the price .
- Power Source: Electric start and fully electric models are usually more expensive t...
