

Price of cable tray adapter

Article Overview

Cable tray adapters typically range from $10 to $50 per piece, depending on size, material, and manufacturer.

Cable tray adapters, also called conduit-to-tray adapters or tray clamps, are used to connect conduits to cable trays and ensure secure cable management . Prices vary based on material (malleable iron, steel, or galvanized finishes), size (e.g., 1/2" to 2" trade sizes), and brand. For example, Eaton B-Line series adapters and OZ-Gedney Tray-Bond clamps are commonly available in the $10-$50 range per unit .

Factors Affecting Price

- Material: Steel or malleable iron adapters are generally more expensive than plastic or zinc-plated options .
- Size and Capacity: Larger adapters for 1-1/2" to 2" conduits cost more than smaller 1/2" to 3/4" sizes .
- Finish: Mechanically galvanized or black zinc finishes may increase cost due to corrosion resistance .
- Vendor and Quantity: Prices can vary by supplier, and bulk orders may reduce per-unit cost. Some suppliers, like Graybar, require entering a ZIP code to view pricing and may have minimum order quantities .

Where to Buy

- Platt Electric Supply: Offers a wide range of conduit-to-tray adapters with detailed specifications
