

South African electrical distribution box manufacturer

Article Overview

South Africa has several leading manufacturers of electric distribution boxes, including Power Process Systems, Twodigits Trading, Allbro, Polybox, Henelec, and Electrical Board Manufacturers (EBM).

Key Manufacturers

1. Power Process Systems (PPS) PPS is a major manufacturer of electrical enclosures and distribution equipment with facilities in Gauteng and Cape Town. They produce all components in-house, including stainless steel, mild steel, DMC/fibreglass, and polyethylene enclosures. PPS supplies distribution boards, kiosks, boxes, circuit breakers, and OEM-specified LV switchgear. They are ISO 9001 certified and SABS accredited for electrical assemblies up to 10 kA, serving utilities, commercial, and industrial clients across South Africa and neighboring countries . 2. Twodigits Trading (Pty) Ltd Twodigits offers a range of domestic and industrial distribution boards, both populated and unpopulated, with IP44 to IP65 ratings. They provide surface, flush, and floor-mounted options, including mild or stainless steel weatherproof enclosures suitable for building automation and industrial applications . 3. Allbro Allbro manufactures non-metallic enclosures, junction boxes, DB boards, and transformer equipment. They acquired ABB's South African enclosure business and supply industrial, commercial, and residential sectors. Their products are locally manufactured to international standards, ensuring durability in harsh environments . 4. Polybox Based in Cape Town, Polybox specializes in high-quality polyethylene electrical enclosures. They offer ground-mounted, wall-mounted, and pole-mounted...
