

Where in South Asia can I buy tubular busbars

Article Overview

Tubular busbars, both copper and aluminum, can be sourced from international suppliers like Bahra Electric, Chalco Aluminum, Alcomet, Hydro, and Signi Aluminium, many of which offer shipping to South Asia.

Key Suppliers and Options

1. Bahra Electric

- Offers high-quality copper busbars and rods, manufactured using oxygen-free copper (CU-OF) and compliant with Japanese and British standards.
- Suitable for electrical panels, switchgear, and transformers.
- Contact via their website for inquiries and potential shipping to South Asia . 2.

Chalco Aluminum

- Specializes in aluminum tubular busbars made from alloys such as 6061, 6063, 6101, 1350, 1060, and 1070.
- Features include high conductivity, corrosion resistance, and seamless tubular design.
- Supports custom lengths, precision fabrication, and surface treatments like anodizing or tin plating.
- Ideal for substations, switchgear, and high-voltage applications . 3. Alcomet
- Supplies copper and aluminum tubular busbars for 33kV, 66kV, and 132kV substations.
- Offers rigid, expansion, and tee connectors, with bespoke solutions available....
