

Which Moroccan fiber optic connector manufacturer is the best

Article Overview

INESKONECT (INES) and FBR Cables are the leading Moroccan fiber optic manufacturers, recognized for high-quality products, extensive experience, and strong market presence.

INESKONECT (INES)

INESKONECT, produced by INES, is a pioneer in Morocco and Africa for FTTH and telecom solutions. With over 43 years of expertise, the company offers high-quality fiber optic connectors and solutions designed for fast, reliable internet connectivity. INESKONECT products are widely used by Moroccan operators and have also been deployed in African and European markets, reflecting strong international recognition. The company emphasizes innovation, professional expertise, and partnerships with major telecom operators, making it a top choice for FTTH projects and network installations .

FBR Cables

FBR Cables is another leading Moroccan manufacturer, specializing in fiber optic and network cables, including connectors for FTTH and high-performance data infrastructure. Their Berrechid facility produces up to 70,000 kilometers of fiber optic cables annually, covering nearly 60% of domestic demand. FBR Cables supplies major operators like Orange Maroc, INWI, and Maroc Telecom, and offers a wide range of products including indoor, outdoor, aerial, and long-distance fiber optic solutions. T...
